Happy Fourth of July from Idaho Immunization Coalition!

SMALL GRANT PROGRAM

Sponsored by the Idaho Immunization Coalition

Idaho Immunization Coalition would like to invite like-minded organizations (non-profits, public health, educational institutions, colleges/universities, local immunization coalitions, etc.) who want to make a difference in promoting immunizations in their community. The Idaho Immunization Coalition is sponsoring a Small Grant Program (grants ranging from $100 - $500) open to any organization in Idaho who would like financial support for an event, project or educational opportunity that relates to increasing immunizations in their local community.

Applications will be given consideration quarterly, and organizations may apply annually.

Please contact Karen Sharpnack kjs@idahoimmune.org for more details and to receive the application on the Small Grant Program.

Happening in Your Community

Immunization Focus Groups

The Idaho Immunization Coalition, Health Districts, and community agencies around the state have partnered together to ask immunization champions (immunization coordinators, nurses, school nurses, etc.) their concerns and ideas and how we all can work together to improve immunization rates in Idaho.

Two more focus groups are scheduled in July at South Central District Health and Eastern Idaho Public Health. If you would like to attend, please contact Karen Sharpnack at kjs@idahoimmune.org for more information.

Public Health PSA to Highlight Cancer Prevention Through HPV Vaccine

Central District Health Department (CDHD) is creating a one-minute-long public service announcement video that speaks to parents about the importance of protecting their children's health through all stages of life.

One of the most important health stages is when children turn 11-12 years old and become eligible for the HPV vaccine—it's the best way to prevent many types of cancer and reduce the risk of HPV infection.

Once complete, CDHD will share the video PSA with community partners and through social media.

If you would like more information about how to receive the video, please contact Christine Myron, Public Information Officer with CDHD at 208-327-8639.

Free App of The Vaccine Handbook newly available from the Immunization Action Coalition

A new app of The Vaccine Handbook is now available from the Immunization Action Coalition. The free app (available for Apple iPhones and iPads only) contains the complete 2017 (6th) edition of The Vaccine Handbook ("The Purple Book"), by Dr. Gary Marshall, professor of pediatrics and chief of the Division of Pediatric Infectious Diseases at the University of Louisville. The app is fully searchable, with functionality that includes bookmarking, highlighting, user annotation, and links to important vaccination resources.

The free app may be found by searching the iTunes App Store for "The Vaccine Handbook App" or clicking on the following link: <https://itunes.apple.com/us/app/the-vaccine-handbook-app/id1043246009?ls=1&mt=8>.

Dear Immunization Colleagues,

Health and safety practices, including immunization, are the foundation of quality child care settings. Child care providers have an important role to play by verifying immunization records and educating parents about the benefits of immunization. CDC is pleased to offer a new slide deck called "How Your Child Care Program Can Support Immunization." This presentation is intended for use by health departments, coalitions, child care resource & referral agencies, and other organizations that provide training for child care programs at the state and community level. Organizations are invited to customize the presentation with their own slide template, logos and state-specific information.

To download the presentation, visit <https://www.cdc.gov/vaccines/partners/childhood/professionals.html>. Please contact childhoodvaccines@cdc.gov with any questions or feedback.

New website for CDC immunization partners

CDC's National Center for Immunization and Respiratory Diseases is pleased to announce the launch of a new website for national, state, and local immunization partners. Now, instead of having to search through all of our communication resources to find the one you need, you can more easily find materials to help supplement vaccine conversations and educate parents, pregnant women, and adults, as well as healthcare professionals, all in one place.

On this new site, you will find links to digital tools, social media content, drop-in articles, print materials, toolkits, videos, PSAs, and more. We encourage you to explore what NCIRD has to offer and share it with others.

Please send any questions or suggestions for additional resources you would like to see posted to NCIRDwebteam@cdc.gov.

Vaccine Confidence Webcast: On Demand

Vaccine Confidence: The Key to Communicating with Parents and Patients is now available on demand!

Sponsored by Sanofi Pasteur, this video webcast has already been attended by over 600 people. The webcast includes timely and clinically relevant information and suggestions to enable your practice to more confidently and effectively manage vaccine-hesitant parents and patients.

Presenters and vaccine advocates Gary Marshall, MD, Professor of Pediatrics and Chief of Pediatric Infectious Diseases at the University of Louisville School of Medicine, and Carole Moloney, RN, MSN, CPNP, Pediatric Nurse Practitioner and Clinical Instructor in Pediatrics at Boston University School of Medicine, identify and provide solutions for many of the key issues that arise during vaccine conversations with parents of pediatric and adolescent patients.
